BCSGA Values and Feedback

Our vision is to advance the sustainable growth and prosperity of the BC shellfish industry in a global economy by providing leadership, communication and advocacy to members, government, the public and other stakeholders while maintaining and improving the integrity of the marine environment.

Over the past year, the BCSGA has continued to advocate on behalf of members while delivering programs and initiatives that strengthen the competitiveness, sustainability, and resilience of BC's shellfish sector. Through government advocacy, industry-led research, business development programs, regulatory engagement, and knowledge sharing, we are working to create a stronger operating environment for shellfish growers and ensure members have access to the tools, information, and support they need to succeed.
